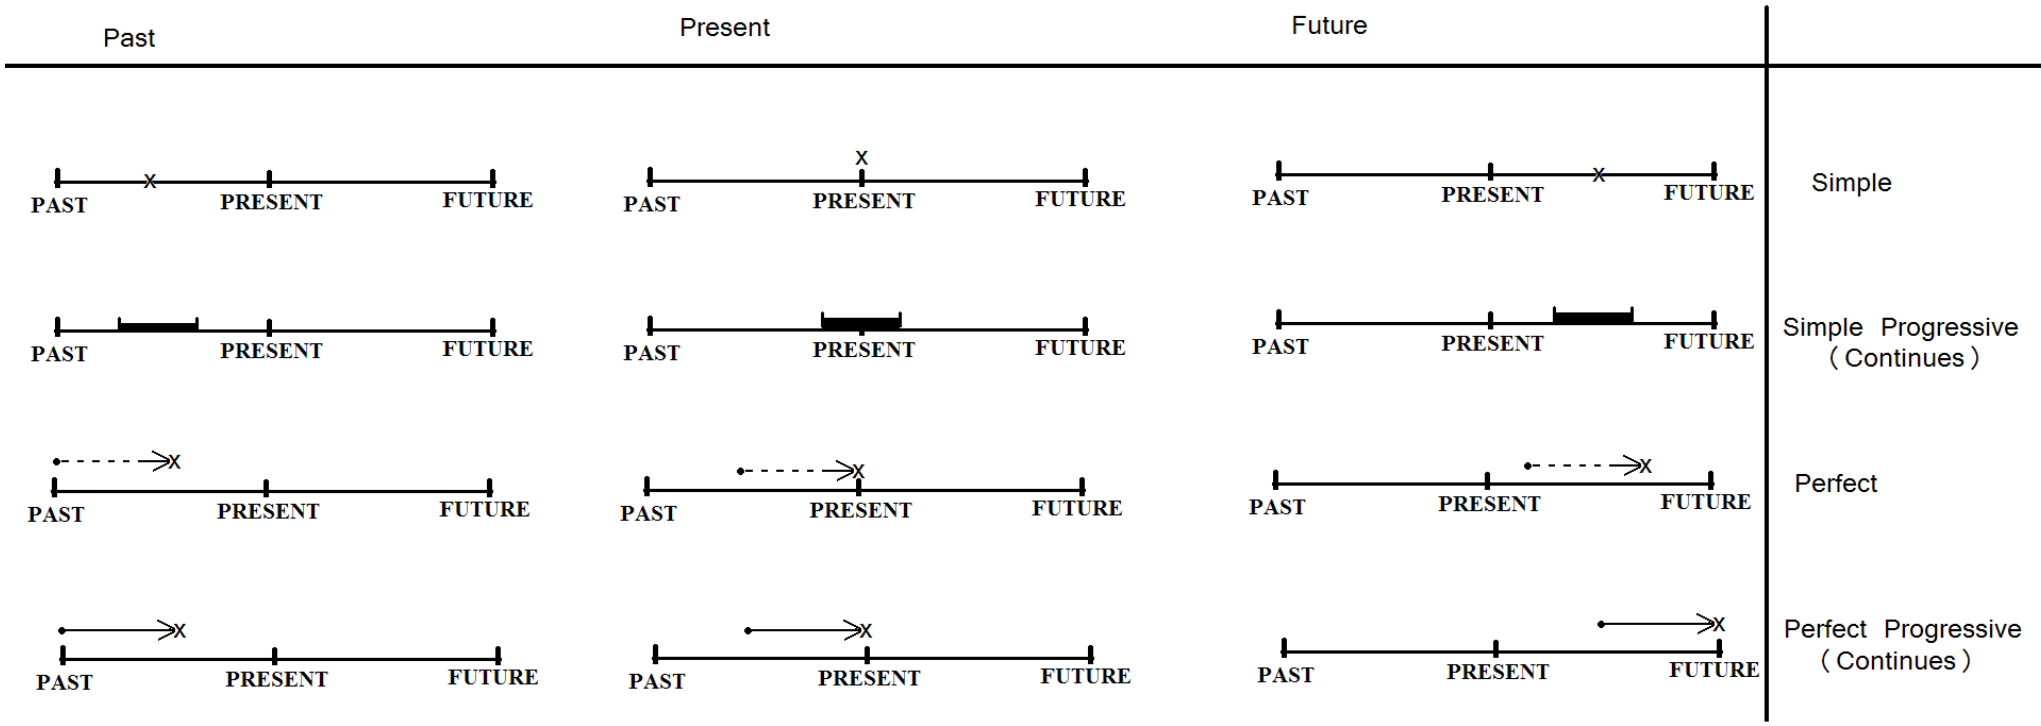
	Simple	Simple Progressive (Continues)	Perfect	Perfect Progressive (Continues)
Past	+S: I studied yesterday. -S : I didn't study yesterday. Q: did you study yesterday?	+S: He was working. -S : He wasn't working. Q: Was he working?	+S: We had been together for 5 years. -S : We had not been together for 5 years. Q: Had we been together for 5 years?	+S: We had been studying for 5 years. -S : We had not been studying for 5 years. Q: Had we been studying for 5 years?
Present	+S: I study every day. -S : I don't study every day. Q: Do you study every day?	+S: He is working. -S : He isn't working. Q: Is he working?	+S: We have been together for 5 years. -S : We have not been together for 5 years. Q: Have we been together for 5 years?	+S: We have been studying for 5 years. -S : We have not been studying for 5 years. Q: Have we been studying for 5 years?
Future	+S: I will study tomorrow. -S : I won't study tomorrow. Q: will you study tomorrow>?	+S: He will be working. -S : He won't be working. Q: Will he be working?	+S: We will have been together for 5 years. -S : We won't have not been together for 5 years. Q: Will we have been together for 5 years?	+S: We will have been studying for 5 years. -S : We won't have not been studying for 5 years. Q: Will we have been studying for 5 years?

S: Sentence Q: Question

BY: FARZAD ABBASPOUR



Timelines for English tenses

CONDITIONALS

1. Zero conditional: (if + present simple)

e.g. -- My eyes get tired if I use computer a lot. -- If you mix blue and yellow, you get green. -- If you don't know the answer, just guess.

2. First conditional: (if+ simple present * (will) + infinitive without "to") e.g. -- If you phone her, she'll be happy. / She'll be happy if you phone her. -- If I finish my homework early, I might call you.

3. Second conditional: (if+ simple past * would + infinitive without "to") e.g. -- If I knew the answer, I would tell you. / I would tell you if I knew the answer. – If I were you, I would study for the test./I would study for the test if I were you.

4. Third conditional: e.g. If you hadn't taken a map, we would've gotten lost.

5. Mixed conditional:

3-2 > If you'd listened to my advice, you wouldn't be in this situation now! 2-3 > If you brought a map, we wouldn't have gotten lost!

6. Alternative words for if: I'll lend you some money as long as you give it back tomorrow.